Episode 2 out soon.

Part 2 is out.

A few years have gone by since Al and Koob last spoke.

Koob has lived in the mountains of eastern Croatia amassing an army of pygmy goats.

Al with nothing on his mind except revenge on the Koob, goes on the hunt for Koob.

But not alone.

Koob has trained his pygmy goats to spot Al when he arrives if he ever chose to seek revenge for the corn-cobbing incident of 2021.

Al has created an army of angry horsemen to put a stop to Koob.

Al loads up his pirate ships with his men.

5000 ships approach Croatia in search for Koob.

Koob's pygmy goats have started an eerie chant designed to alert Goat King Koob of Al's sudden arrival.

Al hears an alarming noise coming from the mountains of Croatia, he knows its Koob and the esteemed goat army.

Koob has begun to prepare for war by readying his goats for battle.

Koob knows this battle will be his last if precaution is not taken for the vengeful Al and his pirates.

Al's worst fear has come to fruition.

Al has secretly rivaled the goat army since the early 1500s.

Koob is preparing a proper strategy for Al utilizing the 14,543 pygmy goats that he has raised and trained himself.

-A sinkhole forms in "Georgia"-

Koob's goats are well versed in the terrain as well as being bilingual speaking Yiddish and Koobish.

Al nervously but confidently yells to his men: “LOAD THE KETCHUP CANNONS AND READY YOUR FIRE!”

Koob's worst fear has come to fruition as Al has brought condiments to the battle how he will respond he does not know - a plot twist has occurred.

Koob has not planned for this situation.

Confidently Al mutters: “Koob ain’t ready for these hard boiled eggs.”

Koob tries vigorously to ready the goats for condiments and the off chance he has brought another unforeseen weapon such as the eggs he hates to the fullest extent.

-India declares war on Russia-

Al created his own unique weapon only meant to take Koob down: THE EGG LAUNCHER.

Koob has covered himself in armor made entirely of bologna thinking this may protect him from the condiments.

Koob's old ally Tunk, from the Korean war (fought for the north) comes over the mountain tops, flying on a winged boar.

Koob welcomes his old war pal Tunk to the army which in fact displeases his goat army as they despise boars.

-A conflict arises in the eastern mountains of Croatia-

Al reaches in the pocket on the front of his fanny pack.

He pulls out a weapon of mass destruction, something Koob would never think of: a packet of Italian dressing.

Koob has never failed to forget the proposition of the feared fanny pack that Al famously wore to all battles in the past 700 years.

-Banana stock hits an all time high-

Tunk pulls out a banana from his boars saddlebag, and proceeds to peel and eat the entire thing before greeting Koob.

Koob has begun to feel fearful thus leading to him creating a decoy of himself for protection - a Koobcrow.

Al and his army proceed to storm the beach of Koobville.

The Legendary Goat King Koob has begun to march towards the beach sensing the arrival of the Al pirates and their renowned leader Al.

Severe casualties take place, the only ones left, are Koob and Al, they're in a standoff.

Koob's plan has worked thus far, Al has confronted the Koobcrow as he thought he would.

Koob emerges from underneath the town in the sewers.

Al is caught off guard, but hes not nervous this time, as Koob lunges forward.

Koob has brought an unforeseen weapon from the sewers, a rocket propelled fecal launcher.

Al reaches in the fanny.

Koob sends fecal matter flying towards the dastardly Al.

Al pulls out the Italian dressing packet and fires it directly towards Koob.

Koob has one last plan as Al seems unfazed by the fecal monstrosity Koob has sent his way - his creation from the KoobSA, a mural of Al himself.

Al sees the mural and thought this would happen.

Al reaches for the egg launcher.

-Clint's corn harvest is plentiful-

Koob attempts to negotiate seeking peace as thousand have died, pausing briefly at the sight of the egg launcher.

Al grabs a single hard boiled egg and fires.

The egg hits Koob in his weak spot.

Koob thinks to himself: “Al how could you cross this line” destroying the mural of his own accord before being hit directly in his left knee.

Koob's weakest spot, the left kneecap, both hurt badly.

Al slowly walks towards Koob.

Koob has dropped to the ground, not giving up the fight.

He has one last ditch effort, his right hand pygmy goat: Guatemala Johnson III, Koob yodels to him in fear and agony hoping to receive the aid he needs.

Guatemala Johnson III charges vigorously towards Al to save the vaunted Goat King Koob.

Al hits Guatemala Johnson III with a single shot of ketchup.

He goes down.

Koob has a fleeting thought: “How was Clint’s corn harvest?”

Koob is out of options, Al has the advantage.

Al goes to Koob and picks him up, he speaks saying: “Lets create a new world of Koob and Al army’s to take over the universe”

Cash Big Pocket arrives on a chariot of money.

Cash is here to fund the event.

Geronimo Big Bucks follows on a flying dollar bill.

Diego Von Money leaps from a bird made entirely of pennies wielding a bar of gold.

-David gets an internship at Apple-

Koob agrees with Al on his plan but has been surprised by the arrival of the legendary Money Boys, a dastardly trifecta of men from another land far away.

Al sends a nuclear egg bomb to distract them.

Al and Koob run away as they are not prepared to take on such threat.

Koob yodels to stand up Guatemala Johnson III readying him for a last ditch effort to stop the dastardly Money Boys - Cash Big Pocket is a man to be feared and Geronimo Big Bucks is quite the unhinged gangster, Koob grows fearsome.

Koob flees with Al.

Diego Von Money starts a money chant with his feared threesome of wild men.

Guatemala Johnson III is taken out as Koob screams for him to run.

Koob sheds a single tear but doesn't continue to cry as he knows Guatemala Johnson III did this of his own accord and willingly died for Koob.

The Money Boys have begun to argue about the probability of the stock market crashing - a great outcome for Al and Koob as they've become distracted.

Al sees Koob upset that he lost his best soldier.

But they get away.

A shocking turn of events: Al and Koob have become allies, and the Money Boys have become the threat, what will happen next they do not know.

-Cash loses 4 billion in $CORN-
